

The Sun

WHY DID THE COW CROSS THE ROAD? Photographs by Charles Traub, including 'Armagh, N. Ireland' (1985), above, and 'Burlington, VT' (1990), below, are on display at Gitterman Gallery.

ART

COLORFUL LIVES Color photographs by Charles Traub are on display at Gitterman Gallery. Many of the lush images provoke a smile: fur-clad women primp at a Paris bus stop, a poodle gets overly amorous with a kissing couple on a beach in Rio de Janeiro, and a buttoned-up businesswoman unconsciously echoes the pose of a naked model on a poster behind her. Through Saturday, April 2, Wednesday–Saturday, 11 a.m.–6 p.m., Gitterman Gallery, 170 E. 75th St., between Third and Lexington avenues, 212-734-0868, free.

